

Youth1st Lacrosse© The contents of this work are copyright protected; all rights are reserved. No part of this work—print, audio or online— INCLUDING charts, data, logos, art, videos, design, architecture, articles, quotes—may be reproduced or transmitted in any form or by any means, or stored in a data base and retrieval system, without prior written consent from Youth1st Lacrosse. Website users are granted only a limited license to access or download any information for personal use, provided the content is not modified and all proprietary notices and references are intact. (See Required Acknowledgements, Required Notification of Use and Licensors, below). Under no circumstances may any content or derivative thereof be used for any other use, including commercial use nor may it be merged, distributed, modified or incorporated in whole or part without permission from Youth1st Lacrosse.

For further information or to request permission for reproduction call us at 204-770-5372 or by email at [donal dhjacks@gmail.com](mailto:donal dhjacks@gmail.com)

A. Required Acknowledgements/Notification of Use:

When you respect our copyrights, we can reinvest in new programming in the future for you. That's a win-win. Copyright infringement also breaks the law. We protect our copyright vigilantly and will prosecute those who use it without permission. For more information on our privacy policies and disclaimers, see Policies at www.youth1st.ca

Use by Students Other than for Study. Any users of the information published in an educational component or product by Youth1st Lacrosse must confirm use and date of use in advance. Articles in Youth1st Lacrosse reports, may be emailed to clients of students but only with required permission, a link to our disclaimers and acknowledgement: © Youth1st Lacrosse. All Rights Reserved. Used with Permission. Call us at 204-770-5372 to reserve reproduction rights.

While studying with us, students may use the tools and resources supplied by Youth1st Lacrosse in their work with clients (however, please see Disclaimers).

Commercial Use: Youth1st Lacrosse charges a fee for commercial use of any of its copyrighted content including all information included in its courses, workshops, newsletters, research libraries, software, calculators, audio recordings, powerpoint presentations, pictures, biographies, educational architecture and methodology, charts, logos, online environments, articles, blogs, videos, web or publishing architecture, research data, etc. Please contact [donal dhjacks@gmail.com](mailto:donal dhjacks@gmail.com) for such permission and quote for fee payment.

Use by Media, Radio or Television: Any direct information quoted from any Youth1st Lacrosse resource must be accompanied by the following

©Youth1st Lacrosse. All Rights Reserved. Used with Permission

Licensors: In using the intellectual property of Youth1st Lacrosse, THE LICENSOR (and any of its Enrolled Participants) AGREES: The components of this course are not to be shared with another user in the absence of signed arrangements made for multiple user licensing. Under no circumstances may the contents of any course of studies—printed live, virtual, or self-study or any other format—be reproduced or used by multiple users for any purpose without prior written consent. In participating in our programs, you agree that the copyright in all intellectual properties owned by Youth1st Lacrosse will be respected and any reproduction will be subject to permissions set out by the company.

Educational Institutions must contact Youth1st Lacrosse for reproduction permission.